

COMPREHENSIVE WIND INSPECTIONS

(Roof Deck Anchoring, Wind Mitigation Devices, Secondary Water Resistance)

COMPREHENSIVE WIND INSPECTION SERVICES:

Midwest Technical Inspections completed more than 30,000 commercial wind inspections for a myriad of insurance carriers throughout the Gulf and Atlantic coastal regions. The company's Wind Inspection offering provides much more than an exterior view of construction and protection, and can include access to the roof and attic spaces to determine roof construction and condition, as well as verification of any installed or improperly installed wind mitigation devices. More than a state-designed wind mitigation report, our services provide additional details and narrative information to assist an underwriter in adequately writing a specific property.

Window Protection

Midwest Technical Inspections' Wind Inspection services can be completed as a stand-alone survey, or combined with any of our other inspection or loss control services, from standard commercial fire and commercial package surveys to products liability and workers compensation. Whether stand-alone or combined with our other services, a partnership with Midwest Technical Inspections will prove a more cost effective method for obtaining this critical information than utilizing a separate inspection entity.

Secondary Water Resistant Roofing Installation

Furthermore, our professional, employed staff provides your insureds with a single point-of-contact for appointments adding convenience for your clients.
